THE COTSWOLD GROUP

Asking the hard questions

Fraud within the 'Slip and Trip' arena is an unquantified problem. This owes much to the perceived low value of individual claims, where there is a reluctance to invest in an Investigation where the claim may be below £5000. Yet interviewing claimants is a key to identifying inconsistencies in an alleged incident.

The Cotswold Group believe that a proactively managed and focused enquiry utilising the full range of investigation assets can show significant fraud savings to the Insurer or self Insured without incurring the risk of runaway claims costs, either through direct identification and prevention of the fraud, or through the deterrent effect from losing the label of being a 'soft touch'.

Effective background research can show hidden links between involved parties, such as so called independent witnesses.

Where identified and agreed with you as offering some benefit to the enquiry, Cotswold's Surveillance division (the UK's largest network of employed, fully trained surveillance operatives) are on 24/7 call out.
